

It's not okay because you don't know who they are and even if it's a friend you should still never give them your personal information.

This is not ok because they want to see what school you're at and they could then find your identity.

Scenario 3

You have been chatting to someone online for a while and they start to ask you personal questions like what school you go to.

It is not ok because it has nothing to do with the game so check it.

Iilu Year 5

It is not okay because that is your personal information.
